Process Query Language (PQL)

Introduction

The Process Query Language (PQL) is the language in Celonis Process Mining, that allows to translate business questions into executable queries on your data using the Celonis Analytics Engine. The syntax of PQL is very close to the SQL standard, but PQL is simpler and specialized for process related queries.

Content

This documentation contains the full library of data types, functions and operators, allowed in PQL

PQL46: The entry page of the documentation