

Event Log

To import your data into SAP Process Mining by Celonis, you need to create event logs.

There are two possibilities of preparing data for process mining:

Preparation Type	Advantage	Disadvantage
1. Single event log	Fast solution by sticking to one table	Unnecessary replication of data
2. Activities table, cases table & additional information tables	Minimizing data replication and improving performance, some tables might be already at hand	Additional work with establishing foreign key relations between tables